Connie did a presentation on the Suffragettes these were women of the late 19th and early 20th centuries who advocated for women to vote in public elections. Elizabeth Stanton a major pioneer of women's rights in America and Susan B. Anthony were co-founders of the National Women's Suffrage Association. She talked about the Night of Terror of November 1917. The National Woman's Party members, called the Silent Sentinels, which was a group of female protesters, picketed the White House for the rights for women to vote. A group of 33 women were imprisoned and brutally tortured and beaten by the guards and the superintendent, an event known as the "Night of Terror". Remember these women Lucy Burns, Alice Paul, Dora Lewis, Pauline Adams, Edith Ainge, Berthe Arnold and Emily Davidson just to name a few who suffered to give women the right to vote which passed in 1920 with the Nineteenth Amendment. Remember to vote in the upcoming elections. IT'S YOUR RIGHT.
